1. The airfield, about 3,300x5,000 feet, was east of STOLP (P 55/N 09), north of the road to LAUENBURG (P 55/H04). The field had a firm grass cover but no concrete taxiways.
2. A four-story stone building, about 100x330 feet, was north of the main road, on the branch road leading to the field. Three intact corrugated sheet metal hangars, about 25x160x500 feet each, were on the southeast edge of the field.
3. The field was occupied by some biplanes.

Comment:

The above airfield is probably the former German STOLP-REITZ airfield on which no reports have been received so far. It is not assumed that an air unit is stationed there.
